Internet Safety Week is September 18 - 22, 2017.

Students will receive age-appropriate lessons regarding how to be safe online. Some of the topics in the lessons and videos include how to create stronger passwords, using caution in sharing personal information, cyber bullying, digital citizenship and digital literacy.

Did you know that over one-third of tweens (11 and 12 year olds) have a social networking site? Some students are starting these sites at an even younger age!

Internet Safety Week will provide information to students regarding how to use the Internet in a safe and secure way.

What is TLC?

If you said, tender loving care, you are only partially right. There is a different meaning in today's digital age. TLC instructor Mike Woodard is teaching Technology, Life skills, and Career Exploration to the 7th and 8th grade and tech-lab basics to 5th and 6th graders.

"Technology is all around us," said Woodard, "and it can help us or it can be a source of frustration. Understanding technology is critical in today's world."

"Life skills are also essential," added Woodard. "The ability to make good decisions based on the information you have is a major key to success."

Career exploration allows students to learn a little bit about a wide variety of careers and start thinking about what interests them most. In High School, they may choose to take more extensive courses through Career and Technical Education Programs.

Marshall Ranch is the source for your students TLC!
