

“Coyote Pride, to me, is the old cliché of doing the right thing when no one is looking. Coyote Pride is about having pride in your school, having pride in this campus, and in this community because it’s not just acting appropriately on campus. It’s really about showing the characteristics of our core values; honor, integrity, and excellence.”

Dr. Adam Wolfe, Assistant Principal

“Being a Coyote is about being someone of good character, it’s about someone who makes a goal and works towards it. It’s a sense of pride, it’s a feeling of being happy and having a fun time at school. It’s being that ultimate number one person, the best version of yourself that you can be. Coyote Pride is anybody that comes on this campus who brings forth their best effort.”

Mrs. Brandi Steele, Assistant Principal

Centennial Fight Song

“On Coyotes to victory
Come on and win for the RED
WHITE and BLUE
Run up that score Coyotes to victory
Centennial we're for you
We're up against that foe,
so GO COYOTES GO!
the best team we'll always be so win the game, Centennial Coyotes
roll on to victory”

WHAT IT MEANS TO BE A COYOTE...

“You display Coyote Pride on a daily basis through your actions and your words, how you display honor, integrity, and excellence. Excellence doesn’t mean you have to be a straight ‘A’ student, it means you put forth your best effort. Honor is being proud of this place and taking care of this place, and integrity is always doing the right thing.”

Mrs. Christine Lopezlira,
Principal

“To be a Coyote means to have integrity, to have pride. Not just in yourself, not just in our work, but with each other. We’re a family here at Centennial, we take that very seriously. Coyote Pride is all about the idea that we are a pack, that together we are successful, together we can accomplish anything, because Centennial is the best in the world at what we do and we have Coyote Pride to show it.”

Mr. Thomas Butler, English teacher and Yearbook advisor

“To be a Coyote means that you are doing the right thing all of the time even when nobody is looking. Coyote Pride just means being the best that you can in all circumstances, whether that means helping somebody out or being there when somebody needs you. Just being an all the way around respectful, responsible good person.”

Ms. Janna Reimer, College Algebra teacher

“One thing that’s really important when you think about being a Coyote is involvement. There’s so many ways that you can get involved at Centennial, through theatre, sports, dance, choir. Whatever it is, find what you love and get involved in that club or that activity, it will make a difference for you and it will make this experience here at Centennial one of the best you’ve ever had. Coyote Pride means involvement.”

Mrs. Laura Coletti, Theatre teacher and Drama Club advisor

CENTENNIAL COYOTES

“To be a Coyote, in my words, means to strive to be your best at all times. Work your hardest everything and not only have pride in your school, but in yourself. To show Coyote Pride, put your best effort into everything you do, also be nice to everyone, broaden your spectrum of friends and also try and get involved.”

Brennon Albrecht, Peer Counselor

“Being a Coyote really means having a positive attitude. If you have a positive attitude everything else will come. You’ll do great in your classes, you’ll make a lot of friends, you will enjoy the coyote culture. Just by having a great attitude and you’re ready to embrace the challenges that come your way. Coyote Pride means just coming to school everyday with the best attitude and just loving being here because Centennial High School is the best high school in the state of Arizona. Appreciate it, it’s very special to be at this school, so enjoy it.”

Mr. Todd Wolff, English teacher and Newspaper advisor

“What it means to be a Coyote is getting involved, doing the right thing, caring about your school in general. To show Coyote Pride go to sporting events to support other Coyotes and their hard work.”

Jessie Martinez Montoya, Peer Counselor
