Information from Center for Disease Control

It is not possible to predict what this flu season will be like.

Flu Viruses are constantly changing, and new viruses can appear.

Flu season is in the wintertime. Flu outbreaks occur as early as October and can last as late as May.

CDC recommends a yearly flu vaccine for everyone 6 months of age and older.

Encourage those you know to get vaccinated.

Internet Safety Week

January 23-January 27

All students will receive age-appropriate lessons regarding how to be safe online. Some of the topics in the lessons and videos include how to create stronger passwords, using caution in sharing personal information, cyber bullying, digital citizenship, and digital literacy.

Did you know that over one-third of tweens (11 and 12 year olds) have a social networking site? Some students are starting these sites at an even younger age!

Internet Safety Week will provide information to all students regarding how to use the Internet in a safe and secure way.

Snow Facts

- Snow forms when water vapor in the atmosphere freezes into ice crystals.
- Snowflakes form in a variety of different shapes.
- Snow is a form of precipitation; other forms of precipitation are rain, hail and sleet.
- Light and puffy snow is often called 'powder'.
- Heavy snowfalls are often called 'snowstorms'.
- Snowstorms with high winds are often called 'blizzards'.
- Snow reflects a high level of ultraviolet radiation and can cause blindness. Sunglass, goggles and other eye protection help absorb the ultraviolet rays.
- Snow can lower visibility, making driving conditions dangerous.
- Skis, sleds and snowmobiles are useful transport options through snow.
- Popular fun times in the snow are snowball fights, tobogganing and making snowmen.
- The highest snowfall recorded in one year was 1,224 inches in Mount Rainier, in the state of Washington, between February 19, 1971 and February 18, 1972.
